REPORTS.

REPORT ON EDUCATION.

WOFFORD COLLEGE.

Wofford College opened the present session under the most auspicious and encouraging conditions. The president of Wofford, Dr. H. N. Snyder, though having received one of the most flattering and tempting offers—the same offer that was given to Dr. Carlisle in other years—decided to remain at Wofford. We appreciate the honor and distinction thus conferred on Wofford, both by those who tendered the offer and by Dr. Snyder in remaining. This adds considerably to the prestige already established. Dr. Snyder and his efficient co-laborers have entered enthusastically upon their work, and everything seems to be going well.

The Wofford College plant now represents nearly a half million dollars. The items are as follows:

Buildings	$160,000.00
Furniture and apparatus	13,800.00
Library books	12,499.56
Land—74 acres	175,000.00
Invested endowment	107,656.54
	$468,956.10

The last item includes the collections for endowment purposes during the past year as follows:

From South Carolina	$8,487.55
General Education Board of New York	5,419.26
	$13,906.81

Concerning these gifts from New York, we beg to say that they can not in any way interfere with the absolute control of the college by this Conference. Wofford College is absolutely the property of the South Carolina Conference. No institution is safer to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, than is Wofford College.

The enrollment for this year is 390. To be exact, there are 261 in the college and 129 in the fitting school. The attendance is off a good deal from last year. This is due to the money panic, the low price of cotton, to the great flood of the past summer that swept away a vast amount of property, to the raising of the entrance requirements, and to the establishment of high schools by the State.

Religious work is carried on in several ways. The professors meet the classes for definite Bible study, the students have missionary classes, and the Young Men's Christian Association meets from week to week. Seventeen young men expect to become preachers and five of these are in the graduating class. There are 17 sons of preachers in the college and 10 in the fitting school. Seven of these graduate this year. Every county in the State is represented.

Dr. R. A. Child has practically finished the endowment proposition and is now engaged in a plan to erect a $50,000 dormitory, which is imperatively necessary.

The death of our beloved Bishop Duncan has removed a great friend and patron of Wofford College. In his last will and testament he bequeathed his valuable library to the college.

We recommend an assessment of $10,000 for Wofford College.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

The Columbia College opened very encouragingly. Two hundred and eighty students have been enrolled, representing six different States.

Every boarding student is a member of the Young Women's Christian Association and of the college Sunday School. Many improvements have been made during the year in the several departments. The health of the community is excellent. Brother P. A. Hodges is meeting with marked success in the work laid down by our late lamented Brother S. H. Zimmerman.

The old property in the city of Columbia has been sold and a new and greater Columbia College has been erected in its stead. There is now a debt on this property aggregating $83,000. Sixty thousand of this amount consists in bonds that will mature in ten and twenty years. It is the plan of the trustees to pay off this debt through the work of the financial agent. The $23,000 balance consists of notes due to the banks of Columbia. The trustees have petitioned your board of education to recommend an annual assessment on the Conference of $5,000 for five years to pay off this $23,000.

We recommend the assessment for the $5,000 to be applied to this indebtedness.

LANDER COLLEGE.

The year past was one of success. The roll of students was 170, and 24 of these graduated.

The year just opened is the best beginning that Lander has ever had. There are 102 boarding pupils, 45 day students, and 13 specials.

There is a bonded debt on the college for $14,000 and debt for land lately purchased for $4,190.

The college is now full to its utmost capacity and needs the additional dormitory which was planned for in the orignal drawings.

We recommend that the trustees be authorized to provide for this as soon as they are able to do so.

CARLISLE FITTING SCHOOL.

We regret to report that the prospects at the Carlisle Fitting School at present are very gloomy. The attendance is very small—only 55. This, of course, is due in a measure to the financial depression of the times, and also to the establishment of State high schools.

COKESBURY CONFERENCE SCHOOL.

At Cokesbury also the outlook is very dark. There are only 43.

The trustees seem to think that if they could remodel their plant their attendance would be better. They desire the privilege of soliciting aid from the friends of old Cokesbury for this purpose, and in this matter we recommend that authority be given.

In view of the fact that our secondary schools are not as well patronized as we believe they should be, we earnestly ask those who represent the higher institutions to help in this matter, as these schools may be made more useful as feeders.

We recommend that the second Sunday in September be set aside as Educational Day, to be observed in every pastoral charge; that laymen be appointed to assist on this day; that our schools and colleges be represented by them, and that our college authorities, professors, and trustees be requested to assist in the general dissemination of educational sentiment, especially in counties that have few representatives in our Church schools; and that all Methodists in our bounds everywhere be urged to educate their children. We desire to see an educational campaign that will result in the filling of every one of our schools and colleges. We have magnificent institutions, equipped at a great expense, and there are enough young Methodists in this State to fill them many times.

We recommend the establishment of a preachers' institute for the intellectual, social, and religious benefit of our preachers. We ask the professors of Wofford College to take this matter up. In our opinion the latter part of the Wofford vacation would be the most suitable time, as it is then that the preachers can most conveniently be absent from their charges.

The assessment made upon this Conference by the general board for educational extension is $2,515.00.

We nominate the following boards of trustees:

Wofford College—Hon. J. L. Glenn, J. W. Kilgo, R. A. Child, E. T. Hodges, Marion Dargan, W. T. Duncan, W. E. Burnett, John B. Cleveland, J. A. McCullough, B. H. Moss, H. P. Williams, H. B. Carlisle, R. P. Stackhouse.

Columbia College—E. O. Watson, T. C. O'Dell, M. L. Carlisle, A. N. Brunson, W. B. Wharton, H. B. Browne, J. E. Rushton, Geo. H. Bates, Edward Ehrlich, F. H. Hyatt, W. J. Murray, P. A. Hodoges, L. S. Welling.

Lander College—A. J. Cauthen, J. D. Crout, M. B. Kelley, J. L. Stokes, P. F. Kilgo, M. W. Hook, P. B. Wells, G. W. Sullivan, C. A. Waller, F. S. Evans, R. B. Scarborough, Joseph Sprott, J. S. Connor.

Cokesbury Conference School—J. C. Chandler, S. D. Vaughan, J. O. Willson, J. E. Carlisle, D. E. Camak, J. F. Anderson, and the pastor of Cokesbury circuit.

Wofford College Fitting School—Same as Wofford College.

Carlisle Fitting School—Same as Wofford College.

We respectfully ask the presiding bishop to make the following appointments:

Student at Vanderbilt University—J. H. Brown.

Assistant Editor of the Sunday School Literature—L. F. Beaty.

President of Columbia College—W. W. Daniel.

President of Lander College—John O. Willson.

President Paine College—George W. Walker.

Financial Agent of Wofford College—R. A. Child.

R. E. STACKHOUSE, Chairman.

W. C. KIRKLAND, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE EPWORTH ORPHANAGE.

It has not been thirteen years since the Epworth Orphanage opened its doors and received its first two children. Then there was only one home on the orphanage grounds, and in it, at first, lived the superintendent and his family, the orphans as they were admitted, and the helpers as they were needed. In this home was done the cooking, eating, and the work of the teacher. But the orphanage family grew rapidly and soon all the room was occupied. A new home was erected, and another, and so on, as the demands have made it necessary. Now there are seven brick homes and two dwellings made of wood, which are occupied by the orphanage family and those who help in the work. In all, there are twenty-two buildings on the orphanage grounds, twelve of these are brick structures. These with the 115 acres of land owned by the orphanage, and its other belongings make a valuable property, now estimated at from one hundred and seventy-five to two hundred thousand dollars. Some of the personal property considered in this estimate, consists of four mules, one horse, a herd of cattle numbering 20, 30 head of hogs, the printing plant, and material belonging to the marble works. The material growth of the institution has been little short of phenomenal, but this is a small part of the work, when compared to the lives and characters of the 377 children with whom it has had to do, since it began its work of love and mercy.

SUPPORT.

The Conference year 1908 has been a reasonably prosperous one to the orphanage. The number of inmates provided for in the home has been larger than during any previous year, and while the expenses have been necessarily greater than heretofore, still by the practice of economical methods, all expenses have been met, and the business of the institution is running on a cash basis. We again commend the special support plan for providing current expenses, and urge our people to cooperate with the management in making it a greater success. The results of "work day" while not as good as last year, have been a great help to the work, and we hope it will grow more popular with our people.

CHILDREN.

We report the admission of thirty-five children into the orphanage during the year, and twenty-three have gone out. There were seven who finished the course of study in the orphanage graded school last June. Three of these are in the Columbia Hospital, taking the course for trained nurses, and four are prosecuting their studies as a better preparation for life, by the aid of friends and relatives. One has died, and the others have gone to their relatives. The inmates of the orphanage now number 170.

FARM.

The orphanage has enough open land for a two-horse farm, and the yield from this, for the present year, has been exceptionally good. The yield of corn is in the neighborhood of one thousand bushels and the crop of hay, grain, potatoes, and cotton has been above the ordinary. The garden has been a great source of help in the way of furnishing an abundant supply of vegetables for table use. All the hauling of building material and everything else, is done with our own teams and largely by the boys.

INDUSTRIES.

The marble yard has done a larger business this year than any previous year under the present management, and its financial side is in good shape. A number of our boys are kept regularly in this department and are learning a lucrative trade. For two years or more the mechanical work of the printing office was done by the boys assigned to it, but at the beginning of 1908 an experienced printer was employed. He and the boys under his charge have had a good patronage and this interest has more than met expenses.

BUILDING.

At the time of our last report, the George Holmes Industrial Building was almost ready for service. Since then it has been completed, in so far as was first undertaken. An addition, however, will be made to this bullding soon, in order to make it as large as the amount of money given by Holmes will possibly do. Many of the brick for this purpose are now on the ground. The J. W. McLeod Home has been improved considerably during the year. A double story piazza has been put to the front, and a small one in the rear, with bath room arrangements. These improvements have added much to the good appearance and comfort of the home which is in part, the infirmary also.

SCHOOL.

The education of the children is an important part of our work, and five hours a day are spent in the schoolrooms, by teachers and pupils. Our graded school is still maintaining its usual high standard, and is doing its part in training the inmates of the institution. Prof. H. Z. Nabers and his four lady helpers, Misses Magill, Godley, Gasque, and Wharton are meeting faithfully the demands upon them.

RELIGIOUS.

The spiritual side of our work is closely looked after. The orphanage church is on the campus and is supplied by the pastor, Rev. C. E. Peele, who has been in charge of the Edgewood circuit. Special revival services were held in September, and the results were gratifying. Twenty-one united with the Church, and a number professed a saving faith in Christ.

HEALTH.

It was fortunate, indeed, that the orphanage was established on such a healthy location. The grounds are part of a level plateau on the top of a hill, and is comparatively free from malaria. The health of the children has been generally good. There was one serious case of sickness during the year, which resulted in the death of little Ruby Elmer, a child of a weak constitution. Dr. L. K. Philpot continues as orphanage physician. He labors in season and out of season, and renders his services free of charge. We are grateful to our gracious heavenly Father for his continued mercies and blessings, and are glad to make this, our twelfth annual report, in the good town of Laurens, where fourteen years ago, this great institution was born and christened the Epworth Orphanage of the South Carolina Conference. The board has reelected Rev. W. B. Wharton superintendent, and requests the presiding bishop of this Conference to reappoint him to this position.

EDWARD EHRLICH, President.

W. J. MURRAY, Secretary.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS OF THE SOUTHERN CHRISTIAN ADVOCATE.

The Board of Managers of the Southern Christian Advocate begs leave to submit its report.

Your board believes that the present year, all things considered, has been one of the best, if not the best, in the history of the paper. There has been no depreciation in the editorial and mechanical work of the paper; and yet your board has planned for a reduction in its price that has greatly increased the circulation. A broad-minded, loyal, courageous, religious weekly in every Methodist home in our Conference has been the purpose steadily kept in view by your board.

Some measure of success has been attained. Three years ago, when the present board took control, there was a circulation of about 6,000 at the two dollar rate; and many of these subscribers were in arrears from one to four years. The opportunity given to secure the Advocate at the one dollar rate in clubs, cash in advance, and the cutting off of delinquent subscribers have largely removed these unhealthy business conditions. To-day your board is gratified to report a circulation of 9,680 with not a delinquent subscriber. How much this largely increased circulation means in unifying the interests of our Church and informing and inspiring its membership can not be estimated.

The faithful work done by many of our preachers in extending the circulation, the splendid business ability of Rev. S. A. Nettles, the editor and publisher, have made this success possible, and the board here records its appreciation.

In the judgment of the board, the Advocate is now on such a good financial basis that all club restrictions can be removed; and it announces that with the consent of the editor and publisher, it will be sent to every subscriber both old and new for the ensuing Conference year at the flat rate of one dollar.

We recommend that Rev. S. A. Nettles be appointed editor for the coming Conference year. Respectfully submitted, MARION DARGAN, Chairman.

W. A. MASSEBEAU, Sec. pro tem.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON BOOKS AND PERIODICALS.

Your committee has made careful inquiry into the work entrusted to its care and reports as follows:

We have heard with pleasure the report of those who have charge of the publishing interests of our Church and the editorial control of our periodicals. In all respects the year has been one of progress, whereof we are glad. While appreciating the value of each publication of the Church, we desire to call special attention to the Methodist Review, and to express the hope that it may find a place in each of our homes.

We note with peculiar satisfaction the increase in circulation of the Southern Christian Advocate, whose influence upon the Methodism of our State can hardly be overestimated. Now that the price of the paper has been placed upon the flat rate of $1.00, we urge that a strenuous effort be made to place the Advocate in every South Carolina Methodist home. We urge that our strong men place themselves at the editor's disposal, for the preparation of such articles as may from time to time be asked for for the pages of the Advocate. We are sorry that at present no remuneration can be offered for such work: we hope that love for the Church will prompt us to make glad response.

JAS. W. KILGO, Chairman.

P. B. WELLS, Secretary.

SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

It is but in accord with the work and teachings of our Creator to say that we deem Sabbath observance of first importance.

To accomplish this purpose the Church must ever be awake to its duty, strong and vigorous in its effort.

Never was the quiet and holy day of God more needed or more valuable than in this busy day of the twentieth century.

As the Lord's prophets we should cry out against Sunday amusements of every sort and insist, in our Lord's name, that Sunday work must be limited to work of strict necessity and mercy. And further that when one of necessity has to labor on Sunday, he should have Saturday or Monday for rest and devotion. Only in that way can he best serve God or man.

In the face of the great indifference of many corporations and municipalities, and the flood of irreligious immigrants pouring into our country, to a regular Sabbath observance, we deem it all the more important that a definite and determined stand be taken by the Christian Church to maintain the sanctity of our Lord's holy day of rest.

In harmony with the action of our General Conference in its last two sessions, we do with pleasure endorse the work of the Sunday League of America represented at this Conference by Dr. Edward Thomson.

We are glad to learn that once in each decade Dr. Thomson makes a tour of every State and that 1909 is the year in which our own State comes into his plans.

We have heard his address before our Conference with pleasure and trust he may be heard in all our important cities during the coming Conference year.

Denouncing as demoralizing and corrupting Sunday excursions and amusements, as requested by the Sunday League of America, we endorse the proposition of setting aside the first week following Easter as Lord's Day Week—a time of special thought, prayer, and discussion, so as to head off, as far as possible, the Sunday frivolities of the summer months.

We are glad to learn that this League is now raising $50,000 for an international headquarters, where a beautiful stone building will be erected as a memorial to four of its deceased officers, one of whom was our own lamented Bishop W. W. Duncan.

We recommend that each charge of our Conference shall, if practicable, during the year, make a voluntary offering to assist in the erection of this building.

We have examined some of the recent leaflets of this league and find them to be very suggestive and of much value.

Let us by example and precept insist that we, as a people and nation, shall "remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy."

W. B. WHARTON, Chairman.

D. A. PHILLIPS, Secretary.

REPORT OF SUNDAY SCHOOL BOARD.

The report for the year indicates continued interest in the Sunday School work and a gratifying increase in earnestness for this cause in many places. The board desires again to call attention to Children's Day and to urge the presiding elders and preachers in charge to give as close attention as they can to this work. For the purpose of assisting in increasing the observance of this day the lay member of the board in each district has been requested to look after and help in this work as far as he can.

Decision day is called to the attention of superintendents and preachers. It is a very important matter, and a proper use of it will ofttimes determine the religious life of a child or grown person.

District Sunday School conferences ought to be held, and after careful consideration the board has adopted the following resolution, urging its acceptance:

Resolved, That in each district in the South Carolina Conference a district Sunday School conference be held each year, and that the chairman of this board be, and is hereby, instructed to appoint a man in each district to organize said conference, with power to appoint all necessary committees to assist him. That this be done with the advice and assistance of the presiding elder of the district, who is urged to be present and preside over the conference. (Signed) WM. M. JONES.
GEO. C. HODGES.

Your board, in common with all those who have the work of Sunday Schools at heart, are much gratified that there has been added to the list of Sunday School periodicals the "Adult Student" and the little paper entitled "Boys and Girls." The first named is prepared for the use of our adult Bible students, while the last is in its entire make-up adapted to the very small children of our schools and supplies a long-felt need. With the addition of these periodicals our Church stands second to none in providing for our people a line of literature so complete that they may by its use do most thorough work and need not go elsewhere for supplies of any kind.

We recommend that our Sunday School workers give special attention to the organization of adult Bible classes, to primary department work, and to the most thorough equipment possible for the great work they have in hand.

REPORT OF EPWORTH LEAGUE BOARD.

The character and achievement of the future Church depend upon the attention given the material which is destined to enter into its being. Hence the absolute necessity of bestowing due labor upon the young life of the Church. The Epworth League is this young life organized for training and service. It provides for our intellectual growth in its literary department; for our spiritual enlargement in its devotional department; for practical illustration in Christian service in its charity and help department; and for the enlargement of fraternal consciousness and sympathy with the divine plans for the evangelization of the world in its missionary department.

Your board is gratified at the increased interest manifested in League work in our Conference during the past year. Many new Leagues have been organized. The last State conference seems to have been the best in the history of the League work in South Carolina.

Announcements about the next session of the League conference will be made in due time. It will be held June 22-24, 1909.

We most respectfully ask the presiding elders to arrange the district conferences so as not to conflict with this League conference so far as possible.

We also urge the pastors to cooperate by organizing Leagues wherever practicable. Respectfully,

WATSON B. DUNCAN, Secretary.

TEMPERANCE.

Our Church has always stood unalterably opposed to the legal and illegal sale of whiskey and its use as a beverage, and once more we wish to put ourselves on record to this effect. Especially do we wish to do so just now, since we believe that we are at a critical period in the history of the cause of temperance in our State. There are unmistakable signs that public sentiment is crystallizing in favor of prohibition, and we believe that the goal is within our grasp. During the past few months four counties have voted against the dispensary by overwhelming majorities.

Surrounded as we are by the prohibition States of Georgia and North Carolina, our State, with her dispensaries, serves as a hindrance to them in carrying out their laws. The time is ripe, we believe, and justice to our sister States, to ourselves and to our God, demands that we rise and drive this monster evil from our borders.

The Conference pledges Methodism to the support of any plan proposed that will attain an absolute prohibition law for the entire State, and urges upon its members to use every effort for prohibition.

We welcome most heartily to the temperance forces of our State the Anti-Saloon League, and urge the ministers and membership of our Church to cooperate with it in its work. And in accordance with their constitution we recommend the election of J. C. Otts and J. B. Carlisle, trustees of this organization, and request the appointment by the bishop of Rev. J. L. Harley as superintendent of said Anti-Saloon League in this State.

(Signed) CHARLTON DuRANT, Chairman.
L. E. WIGGINS, Secretary.

BIBLE SOCIETY BOARD.

The Bible Society Board reports that during the Conference year $720.47 has been raised for the American Bible Society by 153 charges. no reports have been presented to the board by 83 charges. This is an increase of $203.22 over the amount reported to the board a year ago, and of 34 in the number of charges reporting. It is with pleasure that the additional statement is made that in one district of the Conference reports and contributions have been received from every charge.

That larger recognition of the importance of the Bible cause is so decidedly indicated, is gratifying and encouraging. The amount contributed, however, by no means expresses the interest which ought to be felt and shown by preachers and people, in the great missionary auxiliary of the Church. Assuredly the 85,000 Methodists, whom the South Carolina Conference represents, should average more than four-fifths of a cent apiece in their annual contribution towards the publication of the Word of God, and its distribution among the destitute at home and in heathen lands.

Had the eighty-four charges represented by blanks in the A. B. S. column of the statistical table of the minutes, made contributions averaging in amount those reported by the other charges, the aggregate would have been more than one thousand dollars. The board hopes that this negative minority will, during the coming year, be largely reduced, and that in the near future not a preacher or charge in the Conference will occupy a position of apparent indifference to a cause so vitally important.

There were issued by the American Bible Society during the year included in the last report, volumes amounting to 1,895,941. Its total issue, in ninety-two years of work, amounts to 82,316,323.

In the South Atlantic agency of the Society—the visit to the Conference of whose secretary, Rev. M. B. Porter, the board is glad to record —30,000 volumes were distributed during the year ending September 1, and in this distribution were represented more than 35 foreign languages. The agency secretary desires to cooperate, in every possible way, with the preachers in Bible work, and can be communicated with at Richmond, Virginia, the headquarters of his district. Remittances to the American Bible Society may be sent through him.

The board renews the suggestion made in its last report that in country towns where there are no Bible depositories, the preachers in charge correspond with the agency secretary in reference to their establishment, so that Bibles can conveniently, and at moderate cost, be obtained by the people.

The board, in concluding its report, again, as last year, urges that the preachers discharge early in the Conference year the obligation imposed by paragraph 134 of the Discipline. Postponement of this duty to what may seem a more convenient season, may result—as some in their own experience have realized—in its ultimate nonperformance.

Respectfully submitted,

VIRGIL C. DIBBLE, Chairman.

S. W. HENRY, Secretary and Treasurer.

REPORT ON MINUTES.

The Committee on Minutes beg leave to report that we have examined the accounts of the secretary and find them correct.

We recommend that an assessment of $1,200.00 be made upon the Conference for the publication of the minutes, $50.00 of which to be allowed the secretary for general expenses.

We also recommend that 7,000 copies of the minutes be published, if practicable, and also that the minutes be published at the earliest possible date.

We nominate Revs. E. O. Watson and R. E. Turnipseed editors for this year. B. G. GREGG, Chairman.

C. C. DERRICK, Secretary.

REPORT ON DISTRICT CONFERENCE JOURNALS.

Your Committee on District Conference Journals beg leave to report that we have examined all the journals and find that they are all well and neatly kept. It gives us great pleasure to be able to commend every one of them. J. S. BEASLEY, Chairman.

BOARD OF CHURCH EXTENSION.

REPORT NO. 1.

Your board has heard with interest our general secretary, Dr. W. F. McMurry, on certain vital matters connected with this great work.

Pursuant to the suggestion of the secretary, we call attention first to the importance of training the children and informing them relative to the needs and methods of our board in its forward movement. We insist upon the fact that, if our great Church is to accomplish in the days to come the work it should accomplish, the children of to-day must be trained to contribute to the erection of our churches.

We therefore urge that each pastor bring to the attention of the Sunday School superintendent the plan of Sunday School birthday offerings, as suggested by the board, and that he urge upon his superintendents the adoption of this method of training our children in contributing to the important work of church building.

Your board desires to call attention to the effort that is being made toward the erection of a great church in Washington City. We wish to assure the committee having this work in charge that we as a Conference are in heartiest sympathy with the movement, and can be counted on to assist in every way possible in the inauguration and completion of this splendid enterprise.

We regret to notice that the contributions thus far reported on the Wallace Duncan Memorial Fund have amounted to less than five hundred dollars. We therefore urge the adoption of the following resolution:

Resolved, That our congregations be given an opportunity to contribute to the William Wallace Duncan loan fund on Sunday, December 20, 1908, the birthday of our beloved bishop, and that each pastor make due advertisement in advance and on said day urge a liberal contribution in memory of one who loved and served greatly our beloved Church. Respectfully submitted.

THOS. G. HERBERT, Chairman.

BOARD OF MISSIONS.

REPORT NO. 1.

BOARD OF MISSIONS.

REPORT NO. 2.

In October, 1907, the Conference society of the Woman's Home Mission Board appropriated out of the 50 per cent of collections at their disposal $200 to assist in paying a debt on the parsonage of the North Augusta charge, South Carolina Conference, which appropriation was subsequently disapproved and held up by the secretary of the church extension board. The charge now, through its pastor, protesting against this action, desires the ruling of the bishop upon the following question, Do paragraphs 409 and 410 of the Discipline give the church extension board (or its secretary) any control over funds thus appropriated for local work by the Conference society of the Woman's Home Mission Board?

C. C. HERBERT,
Chairman of Board of Missions.

R. L. HOLROYD, Secretary.

They do not. (Signed) A. W. WILSON.

BOARD OF MISSIONS.

REPORT NO. 3.

Your board has heard Dr. W. R. Lambuth, general secretary of missions, with great interest. His personal message and the printed report before us are full of inspiration. The army of the Lord moves forward with tremendous strides, and Jesus Christ the great Captain, is in the van. The spirit of hopefulness, always characteristic of the missionaries, is taking hold upon the home Church. There are unmistakable signs of deepening conviction on every side. One million dollars is a large sum, but this is the amount decided upon by our Church to be raised for missions in 1909. Then, two millions! Then, three millions! At last we are beginning to deal in large things. This larger demand comes from conditions existing in the foreign field, where the spirit of revival is prominent. "The very Orient," says Dr. Lambuth, "is throbbing with spiritual power."

There is also a more lively interest in the Church at home, as evidenced by many facts before us. The amount raised during the past year for foreign missions alone is $766,716.42. This includes what has been raised by the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society. Twenty-two Annual Conferences have paid assessments in full, which is the largest number in the history of the Church.

The periodical, "Go Forward," is a bulletin of information that is indispensable to those who desire fresh facts from the "firing line," and new inspiration for home work. Cost, 25c. per annum.

We would call attention to that new volume, "The Call of God to Men," feeling that its larger circulation means much toward arousing a missionary spirit throughout the Church.

The Laymen's Missionary Conference held in Chattanooga, April 21-23, 1908, was an occasion of spiritual power. It was attended by 1,000 laymen and 500 preachers. The determining purpose of this Conference was to find the measure of responsibility and to assume it. World evangelization was determined upon without distinction as to home and foreign missions, but that a decided emphasis be placed upon the wider and more needy field of the region beyond.

We rejoice in the enthusiasm manifested by our laymen in this their Conference organization, which was launched a year ago. $12,000 over and above all assessments on the Conference is the minimum amount to be raised in this Conference in 1909.

The message of Mr. W. B. Stubbs, general secretary of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, delivered at the missionary anniversary, was full of inspiring facts. The words also of Bishop Wilson were heard with great interest and profit.

We call your attention to the training school at Nashville, an institution for the purpose of training men and women in the study of the Bible that they may become more efficient workers. This school will conduct an institute for preachers from January 1-10, 1909, and we recommend that at least five of our number attend this meeting.

We also recommend that in every place our young people be gathered into mission study classes. This department is under the direction of Rev. Ed. F. Cook, Nashville, Tenn.

In our own Conference, while we can but wish for larger results, the reports are very gratifying. The year has been one of general financial depression. In some sections disastrous floods swept over the land, yet according to the best information obtainable ten presiding elders' districts have paid all assessments for missions. Only Anderson and Kingstree are left out, and we confidently hope that they may sweep in the column of the majority another year. Of the 237 pastoral charges, 190 have paid their missionary assessments in full. 76 charges have been granted appropriations.

Including salary of the missionary evangelist, the Conference treasurer's commissions, and the expenses of the office of Conference missionary secretary and his assistant, an assessment of $17,800 has been made.

We ask our presiding bishop to make the following appointments: Conference missionary secretary, R. L. Holroyd; assistant to the secretary, H. B. Browne.

REPORT OF WOMAN'S HOME MISSION SOCIETY.

It is with deep gratitude that the Woman's Home Mission Society reports the best year in its history, as a Conference organization.

We have an adult membership of 1,470, in 69 auxiliaries, and 548 children as mite-box members, making a total of 2,018. 293 members are reading "Our Homes," and 205 are pledged to tithing. The treasurer's report shows the largest increase in finances that we have had.

We believe there is an awakening on the part of our women to the needs of our home land. The work of the Woman's Board of Home Missions is too well known to be outlined here, but in addition to these purely missionary tasks, there is a growing desire to develop the membership at home, and to render all the service we can in our own Church and community. During the year we have raised something over two thousand dollars for the general work, and nearly twice that amount for local purposes.

We think we can promise our brethren more and more the help and support which this organization is intended to give to each of our pastors, in extending the kingdom of Christ; and we affectionately ask their direction and assistance in our endeavor to organize a society in every charge in the South Carolina Conference.

Respectfully submitted, MRS. JAS. W. KILGO, Corresponding Secretary.

LAYMEN'S MISSIONARY MOVEMENT.

This movement is an effort to awaken the men of the Church, not only to their duty to the foreign field, not only to the uttermost parts of the earth, but to a full realization of their opportunity and privilege in all lines of Christian activity at home as well as abroad, that it is a wide-spread effort to locate individual responsibility on the individual man for his part in Christ's service and for His kingdom where and whenever that duty may appear; that it is we believe a successful attempt to awaken the laymen to the duties that have been shirked by them in the past and to push them to the forefront in God's work for the salvation of the world.

We believe that the men of our Church are becoming animated with the spirit of God, their courage strengthened by faith in God, and that the banner of victory through Christ our Lord will soon float over a great army of men who have not only given their substance but themselves to His work and service.

While we look with longing eyes and anxious hearts to the far distant fields so white to the harvest we would remember also the great responsibilities that lie close to us in our own country—our own State, our own home. We must remember that if the Church "advance one mile abroad it must advance ten miles at home," that if we send men and ammunition to those who are off in the dark places of earth we must also recruit our forces at home and prepare them for the part they must have in this great victory.

Therefore, we the laymen of the South Carolina Conference, have begun the work of organization. Realizing that "the call of God to men," included the laymen of the South Carolina Conference; that we are the men called; that God was reaching out longing, loving hands to us for ourselves and our service, we began to grope about for the light to show us the straight way, and at the Gaffney Conference, one year ago, we began the work that should have begun long ago, and elected a Conference leader for the movement. There were also elected leaders for the several presiding elders' districts to serve until the district conferences should hold their meetings and elect permanent leaders. This has been done and the following district leaders have been chosen by their conferences:

Anderson District—W. R. Osborne.
Charleston District—D. H. Ellis.
Cokesbury District—J. P. Medlock.
Columbia District—L. B. Haynes.
Florence District—B. G. Gregg.
Greenville District—W. L. Gray.
Kingstree District—R. M. Lofton.
Marion District—W. S. Foxworth.
Orangeburg District—A. W. Summers.
Rock Hill District—L. C. Lazenby.
Spartanburg District—L. G. Potter.
Sumter District—R. O. Purdy.

At this present Conference we have had several important meetings for prayer and consultation, have heard with much pleasure and benefit the addresses by Bishop Wilson, and Brother W. B. Stubbs, our general secretary, and have arranged for a more progressive work for the next year. We have agreed as a minimum to raise twelve thousand dollars for next year. This amount to be over and above all other assessments, and to be divided equally between the foreign and domestic work.

We have elected Brother George C. Hodges, of Greenwood, as leader, and J. B. Carlisle, of Spartanburg, as vice-leader and editor of a column in our Southern Christian Advocate, if the editor will allow us this space. To the pastors of our Church we would say, we need your help and cooperation, your prayer and encouragement. We are your helpers under God to do this work, and unless you give to this movement the hearty support that you should, our work will be greatly retarded. We want you to understand that this movement is in no way intended to interfere with your work as pastors in the raising of funds or of anything else, but that it is supplementary thereto, and we are to be workers together for the kingdom of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Respectfully submitted,

J. B. CARLISLE, Conference Leader.

IN MEMORIAM.

MEMOIRS OF PREACHERS AND WIVES OF PREACHERS WHO DIED DURING 1908.

BISHOP W. W. DUNCAN.

By Rev. M. L. Carlisle, D.D.

William Wallace Duncan was born at Randolph-Macon College, Virginia, December 20, 1839. His boyhood years were spent amid the refinement and inspiration of that venerable seat of learning. In 1854, at the age of fifteen, he came to Spartanburg, his father, Prof. David Duncan, being one of the original faculty of Wofford College. He was graduated in 1858 and entered at once upon the active work of the ministry—giving nearly a full half century of work to the Church he loved so well and in which he was so eminent a figure. During the war he served as chaplain in the Confederate army, but, at the close of the struggle, he entered the itinerant ministry again in the Virginia Conference. As a member of that body he filled several of the leading appointments. In 1875 he came back to Wofford College, serving both as professor of mental and moral philosophy and as financial agent. In both relations he did much for the institution he so much loved. The impress of his strong character was deep in the young men he taught, and the structure of Wofford's material prosperity has been on the foundation he laid with such care and pains.

He was elected bishop at the General Conference in Richmond, in 1886. From that time on he was the faithful servant of the Church. His life belonged to it, every power was devoted to its interests, and he became one of the great aggressive leaders of Southern Methodism. "Bishop Duncan," says one of him, "was a worker, a doer of things, a constructive builder in great causes." He was a man of great energy, of keen intelligence, of clear judgment and great practical common sense. He never lost sight of his high mission and spent himself without reserve. The enrichment of human life and the advance of Christ's kingdom were on his heart always. And his service was notably unselfish. He gave generously to the Church and to individuals not only his money but his sympathy and effort. There was no thought of personal ambition, no seeking of flattery and empty praise, no working for self-advancement. He was too pure and great for these things. Strong, sincere, energetic, aggressive, he was yet always responsive to the Christ-Spirit. Like his Master he spent himself for others and went about doing good. He was a pure man, a masterly workman, a broad thinker, a great preacher. Those who saw the light on his face and the flash of his eye as his strong and flexible voice uttered the deep thoughts of his soul can understand his greatness in the pulpit. There was nothing of the merely showy about him as he stood to deliver his message. He was clear, strong, practical in his preaching. He saw the deep things of the Spirit glorifying the external and material. To him the world was a means of grace. The strength of his appeal for righteousness was in his realization of its possibility for common men and women by the power of the Spirit.

As a counselor and leader Bishop Duncan was wise and clear and inspiring. The service he rendered to the Church in her councils and as an executive officer can not easily be estimated. His ideal was high, and nothing ever caused him to lower the standard of his own or of other lives and work. His work for Wofford College will abide. To him in great measure is due the present standing and strength of the institution. For several years he was president of the trustees. Some worthy memorial should be founded in his honor.

The personal side of Bishop Duncan was rich and varied. His personality was cast in facile mould, and all who came into intimate contact with him felt the charm and sweetness of his strong and tender nature. He was a man of large heart and deep and tender affections, loyal and true, not only to his loved ones, but to all whom he was called to serve. Strong and sincere, plain-spoken ,and sometimes seemingly stern and severe, there was always gracious courtesy and sympathetic regard for all.

Soon after entering the ministry he was married to Miss Medora Rice, of Union, S. C., who for a time lingers behind him, beautiful with the crown of years, gentle and loving to all. With her survive three children, Col. Thomas C. Duncan, of Union, S. C., and Mrs. Warren DuPre and Mrs. A. G. Rembert, of Spartanburg, S. C. Nowhere did Bishop Duncan show to such perfection the sweetness and tenderness of his affections as with his loved ones. From boyhood the writer has been privileged to know the family life and it was beautiful in its simple love. The daily note to the loving wife, when absent from her, the little messages and gifts for children and friends were but the natural expression of that love. And to his friends how true! To see, as I have seen, the depths of that noble heart and to feel a share in his love, was bound to bring a man to attempt the best that is in him.

The end came after a slow decline. Tenderly we watched the ebbing of strength. It was my privilege to be much with him towards the last. Almost the last effort he made to express himself was to me. He tried to say something which we thought was a message to the brethren, but we could not understand him. As his tear-filled eyes looked into mine I asked him of his faith in Jesus, if all was well? Very clear and distinct was the answer, "Yes," and wonderfully sweet was the expression that came over his face. Then at the end of a short prayer, his hand clasped mine tighter and he whispered "Amen!" Slowly the eagle eyes dimmed, and we waited for the end. Thank God for the simple faith in Jesus that is sufficient even in death!

It is sometimes difficult to express one's impressions and estimate of one who has gone from us. Such is the case now. I am too close to Bishop Duncan for perspective. Our past relations and associations have been too intimate for me to untwine them easily and weigh the impression he has made on me.

I first knew him in the prime of his manhood, as the strong, brilliant, and cultured agent of Wofford College. Soon afterward I came under his instruction in the classroom. The impression then made of strength and culture remains to-day, beautified and glorified by the pure and high ideals of his religious life as I have come to know it. Over it all is the tender grace of a strong personal affection. To me Bishop Duncan stands for piety, purity, culture, and strength. His personal character was of the highest sort. Nothing selfish or mean was there. His religious life was strong and deep. He spoke rarely of himself, but his faith was of the simple sort that makes a strong man glow with loyalty to Christ. The whole Church knows how sincere and noble he was. He was intense in his convictions and energetic in his administration, and the history of the Church bears testimony to his wisdom and consecration. In the classroom, in the pulpit, in the bishop's office, he showed the greatest ability and stood for the highest and best ideals and standards of life and character. The boyish estimate of my college days abides, confirmed and deepened by the close pastoral and personal intercourse of the later years.

I heard a great man, whom I honor and love, say once: "There are some things too sacred to talk about." So it seems to me. The parting from my loving counselor and friend is too recent for many words. The hand that in strength was laid so tenderly on my head, in the solemn consecration of my young life to the Christian ministry is the same loving hand that in weakness lay in my clasp as he neared the end. The voice that in its sonorous melody questioned my heart so often as I listened is the same voice that, quivering with weakness, assured me that all was well. The memory of his purity and greatness will abide.

JUNIUS JOSEPH NEVILLE.

By Rev. P. B. Wells.

May the first, 1837—December the twenty-fifth, 1907: these dates mark the limits of the earthly life of Junius Joseph Neville, son of Henry William and Annie Maria Jackson Neville. His maternal grandfather, William Jackson, was one of the first Methodist class leaders of the "Old Blue Meeting House," Cumberland street, Charleston, afterwards known as Cumberland Church.

Brother Neville was reared in Charleston, the city of his birth, in a devout Methodist home, and from his earliest years knew and loved the doctrines of Methodism. Having had the advantage of sitting at the feet of Bishops Capers, Andrew, and Wightman, and Revs. Bond English, W. A. Gamewell, and David Derrick, it is not surprising that he had a grasp upon the doctrines and a profound experience of the truths which are emphasized by that Church to the service of which his life was dedicated. At the age of twelve years he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under the ministry of Dr. John T. Wightman.

When the War between the States began, he entered the active service in his country's defense, and fought valiantly until the conflict was ended.

Hearing the call to preach, he was not disobedient to the heavenly vision. In 1874 he received his license from Trinity Church, Charleston, S. C., and that same year was admitted into the South Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. He served the following charges: In 1875, Blackstock Circuit and Mission; 1876, Anderson Circuit; 1877-79, Walhalla and Seneca; 1881-83, Aiken and Langley; 1886-87, a second term of service at Walhalla and Seneca; 1888, Pacolet Circuit. From 1883 to 1886 he was superannuated, and again from the close of the year 1888 until his translation. He left an abiding impress upon every charge which he served. On Christmas Day he heard the Master say, "It is enough; come up higher."

On the 16th of November 1859, he was married to Miss Jane M. Sharp, a native of North Carolina, who through all the years was his faithful and devoted helpmeet, and who joined him, ten days ago, on the better shore.

Brother Neville was a man of Christly spirit, faithful in every relationship of life. His active ministry, though short, was long enough for him to win the warmest friends for himself, and to lead men to the friend and Saviour of sinners. Even during his years of superannuation, his charming spirit, genuine piety, and persuasive earnestness, enabled him to bring forth fruit in his feebleness and suffering.

Brother Neville was a good preacher, preparing carefully for the pulpit and delivering his message with a tender earnestness. As a pastor he was wise and faithful, and his saintliness of character reenforced all his labor.

Modest and quiet, firm and true, he combined the strength of a strong man with the gentleness of womanhood. His life was a benediction to all with whom he came in touch. We have a rich heritage in the memory of his faithful and blameless life, a life devoted to Christ, whom he loved with a great love. That love kept him to the end, and now he sees Him whom his soul craved long to see.

He has left us, but we know where to find him. Let us follow on; and when our change shall come, we shall meet our friend and brother in the paradise of God.

On the afternoon of December the 26th his body was carried by loving friends and laid in its last resting place in Silver Brook Cemetery, Anderson, S. C., to await the resurrection.

THORNBERRY PERRITT PHILLIPS.

By Rev. J. O. Willson, D.D.

The Reverend Thornberry Perritt Phillips, one of "the Old Guard" of the South Carolina Conference, fell on sleep on February 3, 1908, at his home in Greer, S. C. There was no warning sickness, no token of decay. He rose from the midday meal, walked out to the front porch of his home, stopped, silently sank to the floor, and after brief unconsciousness was gone from earth, gone to the home of the blessed! Thank God he was ready. Let us remember this sudden summons to one of the most faithful amongst us, and so live that we may be ready when called—be it in a moment or after weeks of wearying suffering!

Brother Phillips was born in Greenville County, S. C., July 14, 1845. His opportunities for education were few—only a few months in youth, and after he was called to preach, the grown man sought needed preparation a little while longer. He joined the Church in early years and was an earnest seeker after the salvation of his soul. But a call to preach accompanied all these efforts, and as he felt he could not undertake such high service so unprepared, there was no satisfying evidence of acceptance. At last, in 1872, he yielded to the call, determined to do God's will, whatever it might be, and was given the witness of the Spirit to his salvation. He was licensed to preach in 1874, and in December of that year was appointed by Bishop Marvin to supply Pickens mission. In December, 1875, he was received on trial into the South Carolina Conference and was returned to the same charge. For twenty-two years he served faithfully and successfully the charges to which he was sent—never hesitating, never complaining, but promptly and gladly obeying the voice of the Church of God. From December, 1897, he was superannuated. In this most trying relation, the same sweet, submissive, cheerful spirit marked his life. While he had the joy of success in every charge, his labors on Pickens mission were most honored of the Spirit, about one hundred persons being converted there.

Brother Phillips was a Christian gentleman, courteous in manner, kind of heart, considerate of all men, high or low. He had "common sense," and knew how to help men—when in silence to sympathize or in tender words to comfort or warn. He was scrupulously exact in business obligations and would as soon have fallen into any gross sin as to contract debt without a probability of paying it. He was clean in life and in lip. No unclean word passed from his tongue, nor was his ear lent to the unclean words of others. He walked in his integrity, and walked with God. He was diligent, laboring steadily to render all the service of a Methodist preacher. Naturally he won and held friends, naturaly he led many to Christ.

His preaching was orthodox, sensible, practical, always earnest, often with power from on high. He knew Methodist doctrine, and could explain and defend it. He believed God, he loved Jesus, he reverenced the Holy Spirit. As a pastor, he was impartial, faithful, sympathetic. Such a ministry could not fail, his ministry had large success.

On March 30, 1863, he married Miss Susan Willimon, of Greenville County. But one child—a sweet daughter—was given them—and she soon went back to heaven. The bereaved parents adopted an orphan girl, and were father and mother to her, and she was a true daughter to them.

One by one the Methodist preachers of the older type are taken from us. It is a great loss. But we can not keep them. Heaven wants them and we must submit. Farewell, dear brother, farewell. Thy Master has said to thee as He told others in the long ago, "Thou hast been faithful * * * enter into the joy of thy Lord."

WM. BROWNLOW GIBSON.

By Rev. Samuel A. Weber, D.D.

Only twice in all the history of the South Carolina Conference have we been called on at a Conference memorial occasion to mourn the decease of nine of our brethren. It was so at Newberry six years ago when we deplored the death of ten of our brethren. And it is so at the present session of this body. From the youthful Gibson just on the threshold of his hopeful ministry to the venerable Chreitzberg, the oldest and ripest member of our Conference—the one dying early in the year and the other late—we have suffered loss from all the different grades of our membership; the young and inexperienced; those in middle life and in the midst of active and useful labors—and those in feeble old age. We are unusually and sadly bereaved and take this occasion formally to say so. Rev. William Brownlow, son of the Rev. T. F. Gibson, of the South Carolina Conference, and of his wife, Anna S., was born in North Carolina, September 7, 1881, and died in great peace in Lancaster County, S. C., February 6, 1908. His afflicted father wrote me at the time of his death that his son gave his heart to God at eight years of age and that he was ever after true to the God of his father and mother —the God of his early choice. He was an obedient and dutiful son. His educational advantages were good. He attended the Presbyterian College at Clinton for two years, and was one year at the South Carolina University—a student of law. When about ready to be admitted to the bar he felt called to preach and at once obeyed the divine voice. He never afterwards doubted this call, nor hesitated to go when the Church said "Go." He was licensed to preach July, 1906, and was admitted on trial into the South Carolina Conference in November of the same year. His first appointment (Laurel Street, Rock Hill District) was the only one he served. On account of the rapid failure of his health, immediately succeeding the last Conference, he was never able to reach the appointment (Providence Circuit) to which he was assigned. He was happily and suitably married to Miss Minnie Plyler, of Lancaster County—a granddaughter of the celebrated Conrad Plyler—on October 1, 1907, whom he left sadly bereaved but sweetly and beautifully resigned just four months and six days later. His sickness was a lingering one of several weeks, during which he spoke to his father and to his wife words that are now remembered as a sweet solace to their sorrow. But dying words were not and are not needed to comfort them. His harmless and blameless life is the best legacy he has left them or could have left them. Though my acquaintance with the dear young brother was necessarily quite brief, I knew him long enough and well enough to esteem him very highly and to have a warmly sympathetic interest in him and his youthful wife, and in the ministry and mission upon which they were entering so hopefully. He died young, but not too young. Our heavenly Father knows best, and does right. Glory be to His holy name!

JAMES JENKINS WORKMAN.

By Rev. C. C. Herbert.

Rev. James Jenkins Workman was born in the town of Camden, S. C., in the year 1841. On his mother's side he was a grandson of Rev. James Jenkins, one of the pioneers of South Carolina Methodism. In his boyhood he had the advantages of good schools in Camden and his academic education was completed at the South Carolina Military Academy.

Early in life he yielded to profound religious impressions and soon realized that God was calling him to become a herald of the cross.

He was licensed to preach and was admitted on trial into the South Carolina Conference in December, 1860, at the age of twenty. For thirty years he was a traveling preacher. Loyally and faithfully he discharged the duties of the itinerant's life, preaching and ministering the comforts and consolations of the gospel in the various charges to which he was appointed. Some of his fields of labor presented many difficulties but he saw in them the opportunities of service and the best years of his life were devoted to the self-sacrificing activities of the gospel ministry.

What pen, what mortal tongue, can adequately express the significance of such a life of service. We can tell the number of the years, and that means much, but what of the lives that have been made better, the hearts that have been comforted, the homes that have been blessed with prayer, the seeds of truth that have fallen in good ground and borne fruit in the after years.

In his marriage he was greatly blessed. His wife was Miss Mary Sullivan, of Greenville County. Her saintly character and wise counsels made her a sweet and potent force for good at her husband's side. She is now sustained by the grace and love of her Lord to whose will she meekly bows. Three children blessed their home and one of the sons, Rev. J. M. Workman, is an earnest and efficient member of the Little Rock Conference of our Church.

In 1890 increasing infirmities necessitated our brother's retirement from the active service and for a few years after superannuation he made his home in Arkansas with his son. But the last thirteen years of his life were spent at Camden in the home of Mrs. W. E. DeLoache, his only daughter.

During these years his devotion to his Church was unflagging and every evidence of her growth gave him the keenest joy. Though his physical infirmities in later years unfitted him for the work of the pulpit, he found many opportunities of serving his Lord. He spoke frequently and affectionately to men concerning the things of the spirit and many of those lowly ones whom others might have neglected realized that he cared for their souls.

He was a diligent and careful reader of good books all his life, and delighted chiefly in the profoundest works on philosophy and religion, history and biography. This indicates that he ranked among the choicest of spirits. But to him the Bible was the foundation of mental and moral vigor and the great truths of revelation he made the daily food of his soul. It was his habit to rise early in order to read long and ponder quietly the pages of holy writ, and each day he committed to memory some of these wonderful words of life. With the aid of the various translations he sought deeper and clearer insight into its treasure of love and light.

Such was the life and the man. One Sunday in the early spring of the year now closing, after attending the morning service at Lyttleton Street Church and returning to his home near Camden, he began to feel drowsy and feverish. Next day he was worse and as the days passed he became rapidly weaker. Every attention that love and skill could render was given him, but in a little more than a week, on the 24th of March, his spirit took its flight. I stood beside him when he breathed his last. That was a Christian's deathbed. How true to him were the words repeated there by his saintly wife:

"Jesus can make a dying bed
As soft as downy pillows are."

Next day we buried him in the beautiful Quaker Cemetery at Camden beside the graves of his only brother and his grandfather, James Jenkins. These soldiers of the cross are not alone in that sacred and peaceful place. Bivouaced beside them are others of the same holy war: Samuel Wragg Capers, E. J. Meynardie, A. J. Stokes, and A. B. Earle sleep there. Together they await the resurrection morning.

WILLIAM WASHINGTON JONES.

By Rev. Wm. C. Power, D.D.

William Washington Jones was a rare genius. Of all the characters I have known in the South Carolina Conference for the last fifty-one years he stands out alone—conspicuously alone.

From whatever point of view in our retrospect he is considered we will find none other like him. His physical contour, his mental mould, his weird imagination, his style of conversation, his general bearing—in a word, his entire tout ensemble was absolutely unique. Devoted to his family, yet his affection for them at times seemed to an outside observer to be almost painfully undemonstrative. And so with his attachment to his brethren. Genuine, and always trustworthy, his best friends were liable to mistake his wonted reserve for lack of fraternal sympathy and brotherly love.

His preaching, like all else appertaining to him was totally unlike the preaching of other men.

He was a man of two books—the Bible and nature. From these two opulent sources he obtained the subject-matter of his pulpit ministrations.

In the preparation of his sermons, or in his indifference, to their preparation, he utterly ignored all the rules and cut and dried plans as laid down in the books and trusted (a fearful risk) to the coming of the divine afflatus and the inspiration of his surroundings for the success of the message; and while his sermons at times were failures, speaking after the estimate of men, they were at other times overwhelming in their effects upon his congregations. I now recall several of his sermons of this latter class. One of these was preached at Pine Grove camp meeting in Marlboro County when he was in his prime. His subject was the prodigal son, and I have never witnessed a more marked effect produced by a sermon from any man.

Another of these sermons was on the passage: "The angel of the Lord encampeth around the good and just and delivereth them." Yet another of these remarkable deliverances was from the text: "And the darkness He called night." In each of these discourses as a word painter, he proved himself a master. In the last of the three, particularly, many of his illustrations, and notably his final application of the text, were so original, so startling and so oppressive that when he closed the congregation seemed relieved of a mental tension that could not have been longer borne. The accomplished Judge Archibald Shaw, who always heard Brother Jones when he could, pronounced this the greatest sermon he had ever heard.

As already assumed, there has been but one W. W. Jones, and any attempt to imitate him, in manner or matter, will prove a mortifying failure.

He was a man of extraordinary independence of spirit. When he had delivered his message to a congregation, whether the effort had been a success or a failure in the estimation of his hearers, he seemed utterly oblivious of what might be thought of him or the sermon. And so of the acts of his everyday life. He thought for himself, and acted in accordance with his own judgment—attaching little importance to the approval or nonapproval of his fellow-men. (A commendable spirit when kept within conservative limits, but when allowed to transcend certain bounds it becomes hurtful to a preacher's influence for good.)

I omit from this memorial tribute all reference as to where Brother Jones was born or when, or to the numerous fields in which he toiled. These are matters of small moment when compared with what we make of life's opportunities.

Brother Jones served well his generation by the will of God, and fell on sleep—gently and sweetly at his home at Waterloo on March 7, 1908—in the eighty-fourth year of his age.

Knowing him as we knew him, we confidently expect to find him in heaven, and to be charmed by the recital, in his own peculiar style, of what he has seen and heard and enjoyed since we saw him last. Amen.

JOHN MAXCY COLLINS.

By Rev. B. R. Turnipseed.

Rev. John Maxcy Collins was born in Florence County, S. C., in 1879, and died in Charleston, S. C., March 18, 1908. He was left fatherless at an early age Thrust out into the world to provide for himself, his was a varied experience. His education began in the rude country schoolhouse in a thinly settled rural district. Denied many opportunities for improvement, he gave himself diligently to his studies. Through the influence of a godly layman, Dr. Pearce, and after careful study of the Methodist Discipline he united with our Church. In early manhood came the call to preach the gospel, which meant for him a call for preparation. With indomitable determination and persistent study he prepared himself for college. In 1905 he entered the South Carolina College, having won a normal scholarship in that institution. His deprivations, the hardships he endured, the difficulties he encountered and mastered, the friendships he won makes a story which reads like a perpetual miracle." Scorning all props and crutches, he determined under the providence of God to build his own character. Faithful to his studies, true to his principles we find this raw country boy developing and unfolding like the petals of a rose in the genial sunshine. Only recently one of his professors and strongest friends declared in all of his experience he had never seen such a wonderful development in a young man.

He was licensed to preach in 1904 by the Florence District Conference. While in college he rendered effective service in the Green Street Mission. His vacations were spent in evangelistic work. Wherever he went souls were touched and saved. He was called to the Black Swamp Circuit in May, 1907, to fill out the unexpired term of Rev. J. B. Campbell, who died in March. The same year he was recommended to the Annual Conference for admission on trial, by the Charleston District Conference. He was admitted on trial at our last Annual Conference, which met at Gaffney, and received an appointment to Hendersonville Circuit. He was to be married in December last, but death came and his betrothed was taken. Brokenhearted and disappointed, he turned his face to his work, to find the only balm for his shattered hopes in earnest toil for the Master. He volunteered for the foreign field, and was preparing for this service when he was called to the eternal home. The blessed Father above has made death, like everything else, to be beautiful in its time. And when a young man has tested his powers here and found them true and then enters into the larger inheritance above the transition can not but be beautiful. Living had prepared John Maxcy Collins for death.

As a preacher he was studious and positive. He was a true student of God's Word, and was never so happy as when telling and exposing to others its truth and power. His career though short, according to the calendar, will live on in the grateful memories of those who witnessed his heroic struggles. His life stands as a monument of what a poor boy with few opportunities can achieve. Fearing the approach of death, he left his effects to aid some poor struggling boy like himself in the battle of life. Dying he has bequeathed to us the priceless legacy of a life of faithfulness and entire consecration to the Master.

JOHN EDWARD BEARD.

By Rev. John O. Willson, D.D.

Just about sunset, in the town of Honea Path, S. C., on September 7, 1908, I stood at the bedside of a dying friend. Among other things he said, "I want you to write my memoir at Conference. You know me. Tell my brethren I loved them to the last. And now I want to say that I am trusting in Jesus only. Nothing I have done or suffered, or tried to do—only Jesus." Then he bade us all goodbye, charging all to meet him in heaven. Seven hours later, the Reverend John Edward Beard entered into the rest eternal!

We had not a man more pious and prayerful, more true and trustful, more loving and laborious, more conscientious, humble, and faithful, than Brother Beard. He walked with God and to Him carried all things, believing, yea, knowing, that the Father of mercies would help. He loved men, especially good men, and to brother ministers he gave his whole heart. He was a tireless workman for his Lord. In city and country, during revivals and all times, in health and sickness, he labored unceasingly. Almost to the point of self-depreciation he was humble. In all life and duty he was faithful. What more could mortal man be and do? Would that these things might truly be said of us all—in the day when men shall remember our departure!

Brother Beard was born in Columbia, S. C., on July 17, 1856. He was trained in the way he should go, and in early years he showed marked traits of piety and joined the Church of his fathers. At the age of twenty, he was converted during a meeting in Marion Street Church (Columbia) conducted by his pastor, Rev. W. D. Kirkland, and Dr. George Pearce. Soon after he was called to preach. Preparing for this holy vocation, he studied for some years at Wofford College and Vanderbilt University. He was admitted into the South Carolina Conference in 1881 and was appointed junior preacher on the Bennettsville Circuit, Rev. John W. Murray being in charge. The next year he was sent to Charleston City Mission—a new work. There, as ever after, God honored his ministry. He began in an open field. After three years' service, he left Cumberland station, a thriving charge, a tasteful church building, and two hundred and twenty-one members. Sent then to Belmont Circuit, he found four hundred and sixty-three members, and he left five hundred and sixty—one year's work. Darlington station, his fourth appointment, had one hundred and ten members, and at the end of the year he left one hundred and forty-one members and a parsonage. These first years were followed by others of success—sometimes more, sometimes less, but always marked success in winning souls and upbuilding his charge. At his last appointment, Black Swamp Circuit, despite sickness and suffering, he labored with tokens of the usual success, until pain and weakness demanded his sorest trial—the giving up of his loved employ. This endured, and there followed a few months of struggle against disease, then he went to the realm where is no sickness.

In 1882, he married Miss Nannie Easterling, of Marlboro County, S. C. Eight children were the fruit of this union—one of whom was waiting for him in the home above. Let us remember the others, and the widowed heart.

Brother Beard was a strong, impressive, orthodox, eloquent preacher. His sermons were carefully prepared, well-planned, well-expressed, full of sound, fresh thought, and were delivered with power from above. He was always effective in preaching, often very eloquent—particularly in discussing missions or in revivals. As a pastor he was unwearying. Rich and poor received his ceasless service. Necessarily the seals to his ministry were many—hundreds, perhaps thousands. It could not be otherwise. A man of holy life, of child-like faith, of unceasing prayer and labor, could not fail. Such was he, and he did not fail. He has entered in through the gates into the city, his hands have plucked the fruit of the tree of life, his feet have walked the streets of gold, his ears have heard the Master's "Well done," his voice has joined "the song of Moses, the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, great and marvelous are thy works, Lord God Almighty, just and true are thy ways thou King of Saints." Shall we in our day enter into all this joy? God grant it.

GEORGE ROBERT SHAFFER.

By Rev. H. W. Bays, D.D.

The subject of this memoir, the Rev. George Robert Shaffer, was born in Edgefield County, S. C., January 23, 1853, and died in the Methodist parsonage at Swansea, S. C., September 10, 1908.

He was of German extraction, and was brought up on the farm, where he was taught those lessons of industry, frugality, and economy which served him so well in the work of the itinerancy.

Brother Shaffer was not converted until he had reached the full vigor of young manhood.

He was converted while all alone in a quiet retreat on his father's plantation, where he had purposely gone to commune with God. Here he sought and "found the pearl of great price."

This spot was ever afterward to him "the secret place of the most high." Here like Jacob at Jabbok, he wrestled with God, "and prevailed," and like Jacob received the new name.

Soon after his conversion he felt that he was called to the Christian ministry, and after some misgivings, by reason of his own conscious limitations, he entered upon that work whch he faithfully pursued until he was called up higher.

He entered the South Carolina Conference in November, 1888. On February 14, 1889, he was married to Miss Kate Pawnee Neeley, who, with six children—four boys and two girls—survive him.

During the time of our departed brother's public ministry—a ministry which covered a period of the fifth part of a century—he was a man of one work.

He was an evangelist of no ordinary skill—a faithful pastor, and withal a competent administrator of Church affairs.

He was careful about small things, and never supposed that the minor details of life were too small to demand his attention—especially so if the interests of the Church were involved.

Brother Shaffer was a strong, earnest preacher. He was true to the doctrines and polity of his Church—a faithful expounder of the Word of God—he won many souls for the Master

He was not ambitious for worldly honor—he never sought after fame, nor courted public applause. He was an humble, modest servant of his Church, a man whose chief ambition was to bring men to the knowledge of Jesus Christ.

I was intimately associated with Brother Shaffer for two years—and during that time I learned to know him well, and to love and honor him as I knew him.

He never deceived you, and when in his company you always felt that you were associated with a good man. He was true to his holy calling to the last.

He kept the pledge of his ordination vows, and his credentials will be returned to the archives of his Church without the slightest stain of reproach or dishonor—as spotless as they were when committed to his keeping.

His death was both sudden and unexpected, his last illness was brief and almost painless.

He himself was not expecting to depart so quickly when the summons came.

He left no last words—none were needed. There was no hasty excited preparation for the long journey into the great beyond—not a word—not a sign.

His preparation for that long journey into that bourne whence no traveler returns, covered the period of his whole Christian life and ministry.

When the life here came to an end, a better life awaited him on the other side.

At best, life and death are close kin, and only a narrow span separates them. Faith gives wings to the soul for its mystic exit into the invisible hereafter.

Life, 'tis said, is but a vapor,
Fleeting like the evening shadows;
Blooming in the early morning,
Like the early morning flowers.

Blooming now, to-morrow fading,
Fading as the withered branches,
Touched by hoar frosts and freezes,
Fade and die—maybe forever.

But the human soul, immortal,
Vigil of two worlds, immortal—
Like the God who gave it being,
Seeks a place beyond the shadows.

Seeks a rest beyond the river,
Beyond the frost chain and the fever;
Beyond the ever and the never,
In the land of the hereafter.

Rest in peace, departed brother,
For the warfare now is over;
Thou has won the victor's laurel,
And the victor's crown, immortal!

Never more shall pain or parting
Touch thy peaceful rest—and neither
Tramping steeds nor marching squadrons,
Shall disturb thy peaceful slumbers.
Rest in peace, departing brother,
In the land beyond the river.

Brother Shaffer served the following charges: Lexington circuit, junior preacher, with Rev. J. W. Neeley, 1888-89; Reidsville, 1889-90; Westminster, 1890-91; Pickens, 1892-93; Princeton, 1894-95; Verdery, 1896-99; Mullins, 1900-1901; Prosperity, 1902-03; Whitmire, 1903-04; Hampton, 1904-07; Swansea, 1907-08. He died in the parsonage at Swansea, and at his post. Died with the armor on, "still red with recent fight."

He had just completed the last of his protracted meetings, and came home for needed rest, and found it—the rest that remains for the people of God.

He was buried at Denmark, S. C. May the grace of God be the stay and comfort of the widow and of the children.

ABEL McKEE CHREITZBERG.

By Rev. J. L. Stokes, D.D.

The Nestor of the South Carolina Conference—"the old man eloquent"—is no more!

Dr. Chreitzberg was born in the city of Charleston, S. C., December 17, 1820. His parents were of German and of Irish extraction. They were devout people of the Methodist faith; and within the sacred precincts of old Cumberland Street Church the raris boy had his earliest religious training. He was given educational advantages that were unusual for that day; and to the last he was a student, reading widely and to profit. He had command of a piquant and graceful style, and wrote much for the Church papers; while his "Early Methodism in the Carolinas" will ever be valued as a book worthy of his industry and skill.

In January, 1839, Dr. Chreitzberg, just past his eighteenth year, was admitted into the South Carolina Conference. The same year he was married to Miss Anna E. Manno, of Charleston. It was but the beginning of a long and unparalleled career among us, as the brave young itinerant and his gentle wife went to their first circuit, Cokesbury.

It may be well—especially for the benefit of our younger brethren—to note the variety of his work within the bounds of an ever-active itinerancy. He served Marion Circuit in 1840; Orangeburg in 1841, and again in 1864; Cooper River in 1842; Beaufort Mission in 1843; Chesterfield in 1844; Barnwell, 1845-6, and again in 1854; Wilmington Station, 1847-8; Georgetown Station, 1849-50; Black Swamp, 1851-2; Walterboro, 1853; Black River Mission, 1855; Anderson, 1856; Cokesbury (second time), 1857. Then begins his long district work of twenty-three years, one quadrennium (1858-61) on Marion District; three years on the Orangeburg District (1865-7); a quadrennium on the Charleston District (1868-71); on the Sumter District, 1874-77; Columbia District, 1880-3; Rock Hill District, 1888-91—twenty-three years of most efficient service in all in that important office.

During the intervals of his work as Presiding Elder, Dr. Chreitzberg served Bethel Station in 1862 and again in 1872; St. George Circuit in 1863, and again in 1886; Darlington Station in 1873; Newbury, 1878; Washington Street, 1879; Batesburg, 1884-5; St. Matthews, 1887; Cumberland (Charleston), 1892.

At the close of this year, at 72 years of age, and with a record of 54 years of unbroken itinerant labors behind him, Dr. Chreitzberg was placed upon the honor roll of the superannuates. He had been an honored and trusted leader among us for nearly all of that time; a skillful financier; editor for ten years of our minutes; delegate to the General Conference; the historian of our Methodism; the eloquent preacher for great occasions.

For nearly sixteen years longer Dr. Chreitzberg continued a member of our body. He still preached at times with great power, and with an unction and pathos beyond that of his earlier ministry. Nor was his pen idle. He still delighted to keep in vital touch with all the busy matters of church and state, and wrote much, for our own Advocate especially, to the last.

About a year before his death Dr. Chreitzberg had a fall that disabled him, and thenceforth confined him to his rolling-chair. Yet his mind was unclouded, and his spirit all the sweeter for the touch of time and chastening. Tuesday, October 20, he was taken suddenly ill with acute indigestion, and at 10 o'clock the following morning he passed away. At his own request he was buried in Washington Street churchyard, Columbia, near the grave of the sainted Bishop William Capers. He had reached the ripe age of nearly 88 years, and lacked but three months of rounding out 70 years of itinerant life.

He leaves a widow (nee Miss Hattie E. Kilgore), whom he married in 1873. There are also surviving him Dr. H. F. Chreitzberg, of the Western North Carolina Conference, a son by the first marriage; and Messrs. Charles, Arthur and Herbert Chreitzberg, and a daughter, Mrs. George S. King, children by the second marriage.

These are the bare details of this long and useful life. Dr. Chreitzberg is forever intertwined with our glorious history. He was in his long career in turn son and brother and father of our Conference. He was one of our brightest ornaments. Our own Wofford College honored herself in the recognition of his attainments, and of his power in pulpit and with pen. Nor has any one worn more gracefully or worthily her doctorate of divinity.

Dr. Chreitzberg was a man of retiring disposition, and one must know him well to love him as he deserved. He was modest as to his Christian experience; but by every token he loved God and the blood-bought church of Christ; he served the Master and his brethren with all his powers; he ripened most beautifully for heaven.

One of his "boys" is glad this afternoon to lay upon his honored tomb this simple wreath of heartfelt appreciation.

THE DECEASED WIVES AND WIDOWS OF PREACHERS.

By Rev. J. C. Yongue.

MRS. EMMA C. FELDER.

Emma Edith Coskeey, daughter of W. W. and Mrs. M. L. Coskecy, was born March 12, 1882, near Summerton, Clarendon County, S. C. When about thirteen years of age she united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and continued an earnest zealous, and useful member of the same until the time of her translation to the church triumphant in heaven, June 29, 1908.

On March 23, 1905, she was happily married to Rev. C. S. Felder. To whom she was, indeed, an helpmeet, sharing with him most gladly the toils and triumphs of the work of the itineracy, to which work she was peculiarly adapted. One precious little child was born of this union and survives to cheer the hearts of the bereaved husband and sympathizing friends and relatives.

MRS. MINNIE L. WHITE.

Minnie L. Britton, daughter of Dr. C. S. and Mrs. Penelope Britton, was born July 10, 1870. Was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, at St. John's, Sumter Circuit, during the pastorate of Rev. W. L. Wait, in 1888. Her pastor says that her conversion was one of the brightest and clearest that he ever saw.

She was married to Rev. T. J. White on December 15, 1892. Of this union there are seven surviving children, five girls and two boys—one of them a little infant, only a few days old, at the time of its mother's death, June 30, 1908.

MRS. LEILA B. WIGGINS.

Leila Black Wiggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Black, of Bamberg, S. C., was born April 4, 1881. Was converted and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under the ministry of the late S. P. H. Elwell, D.D., in 1896. She was married to Rev. L. E. Wiggins April 5, 1904, and died on July 1, 1908, leaving two children—a little girl of three years, and an infant son, one month old, to comfort the heart of their sorrowing father. By virtue of her home-training, her education, and her natural endowments, Mrs. Wiggins was peculiarly fitted to be a preacher's wife, and made her parsonage home a center of light and joy to the community in which it was located.

MRS. DELL MUNNERLYN.

Mrs. Dell Munnerlyn, the wife of Rev. T. W. Munnerlyn, was born in Sumter County, S. C., October 16, 1879. She gave her heart to God in early life, and united with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, which she always held to be the greatest institution on the earth. She is said to have been an "ideal preacher's wife," always doing her work with a smile, and that no life remained the same after being touched by hers. During the period of her last illness she suffered much, but in the season of sickness and suffering as well as during the season of health and happiness, she gave proof of the reality and sufficiency of her religion.

She was married to Rev. T. W. Munnerlyn January 18, 1898, and died October 19, 1908, leaving two little children, whom she had sought to point the way of life and salvation.

MRS. JULIA I. WHITAKER.

Mrs. George R. Whitaker, (nee Miss Julia Imogene Hallford) was born January 31, 1867. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hallford, of Hampton County, S. C., were pious Methodists and trained their children in the faith and practice of the religion of Jesus Christ, as held and taught by the pioneers of Methodism in the lower counties of our State. Hence she was eminently qualified to enter upon the work of an itinerant Methodist preacher's wife, and on December 6, 1888, was joined in holy matrimony to Rev. G. R. Whitaker, to this union there were born six children—five of these are still living, one preceded the mother to the heavenly world. For some weeks before her death, Sister Whitaker realized that the end was near, and spoke calmly and confidently of her hope of a glorious resurrection unto eternal life. She found great comfort in quoting the precious promises of God. On November 22, 1908, after a long and painful illness, she entered into the rest that remaineth unto the people of God.

MRS. JANE M. NEVILLE.

Mrs. Jane M. Neville, formerly Jane M. Sharpe, became identified with the great host of the itinerant preachers of the South Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, by her marriage to Rev. J. J. Neville, for many years an honored and useful member of this body. Of the early life of Mrs. Neville we have no information, but from the time of her marriage, March, 1859, up to the date of her translation, November 20, 1908, she was one among the number of those devout and consecrated women who by their personal labors in the church, but more especially by their sympathies with and loving ministrations to their husbands, whom God has called to the ministry of the gospel, have made possible whatever success has attended their ministry. For a little more than forty-eight years she went with her husband to and fro in the land, wherever the church had need of his services, and wherever she went God blessed her and made her a blessing. One year she was left to pilgrimage through this vale of sorrows alone—yet not alone—for God was with her, and on the morning of the 20th November, 1908, she heard His voice, saying, "it is enough, come up higher," and from her home in Anderson, S. C., went to join her husband in the house of many mansions, there to be forever with the Lord. We bless God for these noble Christian women, whose self-sacrificing devotion to duty, and whose value to the church and the world none but God and the angels of heaven can tell.

"Our Lord has call'd these dear ones home,
And sweetly now they rest;
Earth's battle fought, no more they roam,
But dwell among the blest.

"While here, they serv'd the Master well,
Believing in His Grace;
And now fore'er in Heav'n they dwell,
And see Him face to face."
